RESTAURANT KEVIN TAYLOR UNDERGOING A RENOVATION AUGUST 2010

Denver's longest running Four Diamond, Four Star restaurant will have new look and feel

Denver, CO (July 2010) – Restaurant Kevin Taylor has been part of the downtown Denver dining scene since they opened their doors in the historic Hotel Teatro in 1998. In August 2010 the restaurant's main dining room and mezzanine level will undergo a dramatic renovation that will afford long-time guests a fresh experience and tantalize a new generation of sophisticated diners.

“We are excited to bring more of the character and vibrancy of our cuisine to the ambiance of the space,” says chef/owner Kevin Taylor of his eponymous flagship restaurant. “It will be a beautiful, comfortable, contemporary environment that is reflective of the elegant service and menu.”

In accordance with the sleek décor, the menu will have pared down options as well. Taylor's offerings will continue to be driven by fresh, local ingredients and selections for a simpler experience will be available. A three-course prix fixe menu for $45 will be a standard offering in addition to the full a la carte menu. “We want pre-theatre guests with limited time and up and coming restaurant fans alike to have an opportunity to experience the restaurant,” says Taylor. However, the more elaborate, multi-course dinners with wine pairings will continue to be the trademark of the Restaurant Kevin Taylor service and menu style.

The conceived interior will feature natural materials in a muted palette of black, white and gray creating a contemporary, chic dining room. Dark paneling contrasted by stark white walls will create drama highlighted by stunning natural seashell and Swarovski chandeliers suspended from 18' ceilings. Artisan wooden chairs with sumptuous leather and ebonized Makassar tables topped with Bernardaud China and Reidel Stemware will complete the four-star setting.

The restaurant will be closed two days, August 8-9th for demolition. The restaurant's private wine cellar will be open for reservations throughout the remainder of the renovations with the main dining and mezzanine levels reopening on August 18, 2010.
